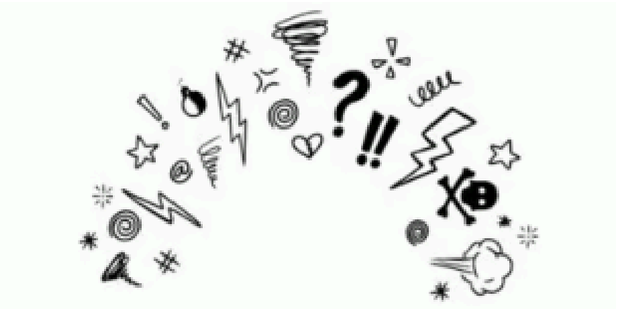
WRITTING PART: COMPLAINT FORMAL EMAIL

A complaint letter is a letter written to concerned authorities if we are not satisfied with the service provided by them. These letters are usually formal in nature.



Sometimes when we order a product and it is received defective then we write a letter to the related person or company, complaining about the product.

Step 1: Salutation

Dear Sir/ Madam / Manager / To whom it may concern,

If you do not know the name of the person you are writing to, use this. It is always advisable to try to find out a name.

Dear Mr Jenkins

If you know the name, use the title (Mr, Mrs, Miss or Ms, Dr, etc.) and the surname only. If you are writing to a woman and do not know if she uses Mrs or Miss, you can use Ms, which is for married and single women.

💡 You should always be polite and respectful, even if you complain. A useful way to achieve it, especially in formal letters is to use 'modal verbs', i.e., would, could or should.

Step 2: The Introductory Paragraph

You should identify what the issue is and any relevant information that you believe is important. Include more details if it's applicable to the situation.

Example:

> I want to express my strong dissatisfaction with the service I received during a visit to your restaurant on...

Step 3: The next paragraphs (the body)

You can extend your thoughts and feelings further. Yet, be sure to stick with the facts and avoid putting emotions into your letter.

- Include the time of the issue, location, people involved and what the problem was.
- Any complaint should be supported with a justification:

Example:

Complaint: I still haven't t received the goods.
Justification: I sent you a cheque three weeks ago.

Step 4: Closing paragraph

Write how you want this problem to be solved. You can also throw in some compliments about something you liked about their company's product or service.

Example:

> Yours faithfully
> {You name}

"Yours sincerely" or "Yours faithfully"?

"Yours sincerely" is typically employed in English when the recipient is addressed by name (e.g. "Dear John") and is known to the sender to some degree, whereas "Yours faithfully" is used when the recipient is not addressed by name (i.e., the recipient is addressed by a phrase such as "Dear Sir/Madam")

Mr. Menlo Ortega

Director of Investment Funds

Dear Sir:

By the following letter of complaint, I would like to express my un-satisfaction with the treatment received at the branch, by the operator Francisco Garza who kindly attended at first, until the conversation took worse paths and ending with an assault on my wife.

We have not made any complaint to the police and we prefer that this regrettable incident is settled in a friendly manner. But I convey my deep un-satisfaction with what happened and I propose a meeting with you and Mr. Francisco to fix everything in a civilized manner.

No other tasks, yours truly

Rodrigo Diaz
